The power cost adjustment is calculated by subtracting the recommended base of $0.042/KWH from the actual power cost/KWH in the month in which the power costs were higher than the recommended base. The recommended base will be subtracted from the actual power costs for the month and the difference will be the adder for that month. The adder will be multiplied by the KWH's used for that month on each bill. The dollar amount calculated by multiplying the adder by the kilowatts used will be added to each bill for that month.
